The screenshot shows the EndNote website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Clarivate Analytics logo and the EndNote brand name. Below the navigation bar, there are several menu items: My References, Collect, Organize, Format, Match, Options, and Downloads. The Downloads section is highlighted. The main content area is divided into three columns. The first column is titled 'Cite While You Write™' and describes a tool for inserting references and formatting bibliographies. The second column is titled 'Capture:' and describes a tool for capturing references from web pages. The third column is titled 'EndNote Click' and describes a tool for saving full-text PDFs. At the bottom of the page, there is a link to 'Find out more and try it for yourself'.

The screenshot shows the 'Create your EndNote Click account' page. At the top, there is a progress indicator with three steps: 1. Install (checked), 2. Account (active), and 3. Institution. The main heading is 'Create your EndNote Click account'. Below the heading, there is a link for users who already have an account. The form contains fields for 'First name', 'Last name', 'Email address', and 'Enter a new password'. At the bottom, there are 'Back' and 'Create my EndNote Click account' buttons, and a link to 'terms of use and privacy policy'.

The screenshot shows the 'Find your institution to access your library subscriptions' page. At the top, there is a progress indicator with three steps: 1. Install (checked), 2. Account (checked), and 3. Institution (active). The main heading is 'Find your institution to access your library subscriptions'. Below the heading, there is a search box with the text 'Start typing to find your institution' and a placeholder 'e.g. Berkeley or UCB or berkeley.edu'. A 'Select this institution' button is below the search box. Below the search box, there is a link for users who can't find their university. At the bottom, there is a 'Free PDFs Only' button and a link to 'terms of use and privacy policy'.
